About this ebook

Chris Pratt's change from sitcom sidekick to space-adventure lead is one of Hollywood's best-known transformations. It also produced a viral myth about water — so here is what was actually reported.

This ebook is an independent summary of publicly available interviews and articles. It is not affiliated with, authorised or endorsed by Chris Pratt, their trainers, representatives, or any film studio. Names are used only to identify whose publicly reported routine is being described. Every reported fact is paraphrased and numbered to its source on the final page. Sections marked Valtair adaptation are our own general suggestions, not the celebrity's plan. This is general information, not medical, nutritional or dermatological advice — check with a qualified professional before changing your diet, training or skincare, especially if you are pregnant, take medication or have a health condition.

CHAPTER 1

What was reported

1. Nutritionist Phil Goglia put Pratt on a 4,000-calorie-per-day diet to prepare for his space-hero role.[1]

2. In a 2014 Men's Fitness cover story he said: 'I was peeing all day long, every day. That part was a nightmare.'[1]

3. The original 2014 report said one ounce of water per pound of body weight — about 37 cups a day.[1]

4. A 2025 book excerpt misprinted this as 'one glass' per pound; the publisher said the error was theirs and the wording was corrected.[1]

5. In a 2020 Men's Journal interview, Pratt said he tries to drink 'at least a gallon of water a day.'[1]

CHAPTER 2

A reported day

No complete daily menu has been published in the sources we used — so we are not inventing one. Below are the reported building blocks and training notes.

No specific daily menu was published in the reporting we could verify.

TRAINING NOTES

- The calorie target supported heavy training to build muscle for the role.
- Hydration was a deliberate focus — but at sensible levels, not the misreported extreme.

CHAPTER 3

The principles

Strip away the film budget, private chefs and trainers, and the reported approach comes down to a handful of repeatable rules. These are our plain-English take on them:

VALTAIR ADAPTATION

- Eat every 3–4 hours — 4 to 5 feedings.
- Aim for protein in every feeding.
- Use a shake or smoothie when appetite runs out.
- Increase portions gradually; check weight weekly.

PORTION GUIDE (HAND METHOD)

| FOOD | PER MEAL |
|---|---|
| Protein | 1–2 palms |
| Vegetables | 1–2 fists |
| Carbs | 1–2 cupped hands |
| Fats | 1–2 thumbs |

Smaller or less active? Use the lower number. Larger or training hard? The higher one.

Your 7-day plan

An original, everyday-budget week inspired by the principles — not the celebrity's actual menu. Indian-kitchen friendly; swap freely.

Style: Lean-bulk, 5-meal week

| | MORNING | MIDDAY | EVENING |
|---|---|---|---|
| Day 1 | Oats + milk + banana + 3 eggs | Peanut-butter banana shake | Chicken / paneer, rice, dal, veg |
| Day 2 | Paratha (less oil) + curd + eggs | Sprouts chaat + nuts | Fish / tofu, potatoes, salad |
| Day 3 | Upma + boiled eggs + milk | Greek yoghurt + granola | Rajma chawal + chicken / paneer tikka |
| Day 4 | Dosa + sambar + eggs | Smoothie: milk, oats, banana, whey | Mutton / soya keema, rotis, veg |
| Day 5 | Poha + peanuts + milk | Chana chaat + fruit | Chicken biryani (home portion) + raita |
| Day 6 | Idli + sambar + omelette | Dry fruits + milk | Fish curry, rice, sabzi |
| Day 7 | Free choice brunch | Shake | Dal makhani (light), rotis, salad |

CHAPTER 5

Shopping list

One week, one shop. Tick as you go.

- Grill or bake 1 kg of protein; portion into boxes.
- Wash and chop vegetables for 3 days.
- Portion nuts and snacks into small bags.

CHAPTER 6

Read this first: cautions

- Drinking far too much water too fast can be dangerous (hyponatraemia). Follow thirst and your doctor's advice.
- A 4,000-calorie plan suits a large man training hard to gain — scale portions to yourself.
- Celebrity transformations are short-term, supervised and often timed to a shoot. Sustainable progress is slower — and that is normal.
- Stop and see a doctor if you feel faint, unwell, or your relationship with food starts to feel stressful.

4-week tracker

Count the days per week you managed each habit (0–7).

| HABIT | W1 | W2 | W3 | W4 |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| Hit protein at every meal | | | | |
| Ate mostly whole foods | | | | |
| Drank 2–3 L water | | | | |
| Trained / walked | | | | |
| Slept 7+ hours | | | | |
| Weekly weigh-in / photo | | | | |
